Brookline Senior Center, 93 Winchester Street

How can we continue to create close relationships with our adult children while respecting their independence as we each muddle through various changes in life? Join Dr. Ruth Nemzoff, author of Don't Bite Your Tongue: How to Foster Rewarding Relationships with Your Adult Children, as she addresses this important question.

Families need each other at the beginning of life, the end of life, and for all the crises in between. How can we facilitate discussions so that our children, nieces, and nephews understand our needs and our wants? How can we discuss financial matters and end of life issues?

Dr. Nemzoff is a Resident Scholar at Brandeis University Women's Studies Center. She is also the author of Don't Roll Your Eyes: Making In-laws into Family, and she has given over 350 lectures on family dynamics.

This BrooklineCAN event is free of charge and books will be available for sale. Please call 617-730-2770 to register.
